Administrative Note

The African American Ministry Office was established in 1981 as “The Office for Black Catholic Concerns for the Archdiocese of Milwaukee” by Archbishop Rembert G. Weakland, O.S.B. in order to oversee the development and growth of the African American Catholic community throughout the archdiocese. By 1993, the office’s name is changed to “African American Ministry” as the organization continued to grow in size and influence. By 1999, the ministry was well-established as a strong representation of African American Catholics among congregational events like the African World Festival, and national gatherings of African American Catholics. Eventually, the ministry was integrated into the Archdiocese of Milwaukee’s Office of Multicultural Affairs to help manage the ministry’s operation, until the office was dissolved in 2004, thereby ending the ministry’s existence as a formal organization. Today, the Black Catholic Ministry Commission operates under the archdiocesan Intercultural Ministries Office.
